
Bars span tested cooling and burning masses; shading connects the sampled metallicities.

Mass spacing is not a physical error bar. Atmosphere and mixing uncertainties remain.