

Right: enlargement of the flash region. Times are measured from the saved model before shell convection.

These are alternative histories. Lines join saved models; short adjustments are represented by their endpoints.

Dotted connections mark atmosphere or starting-model changes, not resolved evolution. The complete flash remains unverified.